Other Business Activities

Registered Representative

Randall Larson is also a registered representative of Woodbury Financial Services, Inc. As such, Randall Larson may recommend the purchase of securities from Woodbury. If you purchase securities from Woodbury, Randall Larson will receive commissions on the sale of investment products and in certain instances receive ongoing 12b-1 fees, in addition to the receipt of advisory fees for advisory services such as financial planning services.

Insurance Agent

Randall Larson is also an insurance agent appointed with The Hartford and certain other insurance carriers and receives, commissions on the sale of insurance products. Insurance products may include but are not limited to life, medical and property and casualty insurance products. In certain instances, the agent may receive payments for the renewal of certain insurance products, in addition to the receipt of advisory fees for advisory services such as financial planning services.

These payments vary by insurance product and company and may provide different incentives depending on the amount of the renewal payment. In some instances, sales commissions from life insurance provide a higher deposit rate to registered representatives than investment products. As such, a registered representative may have a financial incentive to promote certain life insurance products over other investment products. While Woodbury and your financial advisor intend to provide recommendations of products and services they believe are suitable for you, you should carefully evaluate each product or service recommendation based on your own financial situation and investment objectives.

Glennwood Housing Foundation Inc

Non Profit Foundation for housing of young adults with developmental disabilities, like a large group home in Laguna

Larson Risk Management

It is teaching small classes or seminars to the public education system in CA. I teach school administrators occasionally on liability and risk management. I plan to teach some classes on retirement planning and 403b accounts to public school districts, by participating in industry trade shows like CASBO, the CA Association of School Chief Business Officers or the CA Assoc of Superintendents. I have three public districts as property & casualty clients who want me to bring more value added to themselves and referrals. No fees for attending would be charged.

Please note that registered representative and insurance agent activities are reviewed and supervised by Woodbury. This review includes transactions that you may conduct in your accounts based on specific recommendations to purchase products and/or services made by your registered representative.

With respect to certain other business activities unrelated to registered representative or certain insurance agent activities that your financial advisor may participate in, these activities are reviewed, and when appropriate approved in accordance with industry rules. While the firm may initially review these other business activities, these activities are not associated or in any way related to activity conducted by Woodbury. Therefore, Woodbury will not be responsible with respect to any recommendation or determination as to the suitability of your choice to participate in such activities. These other business activities may present certain conflicts of interest that you should be aware of and consider before participating in such activities. Please ask your financial advisor for further information.

Additional Compensation

Financial representatives may receive compensation from someone other than a client for providing investment advice or other advisory services to clients by referring clients to other investment advisers. There are potential conflicts of interests with these arrangements. These potential conflicts include situations where the compensation paid to the firm or the financial representative differs based on the particular third-party adviser. Therefore, financial representatives may have an economic incentive to recommend one third-party adviser over another. A potential conflict of interest also exists because certain third-party advisers may provide reimbursements to financial representatives as an offset for marketing and seminar materials explaining the advisory products and services offered. Only certain third-party advisers may provide such reimbursements, and may do so only in certain circumstances, therefore the conflicts arise in these situations.

Supervision

Woodbury supervises the investment advisory services provided by its financial advisors through a variety of methods, including a review by a licensed principal prior to a client's enrollment in any investment advisory service or prior to any new account opening. This review is designed to ensure that the products or services offered and recommended to clients are appropriate based on the particular client's situation. Additionally, the Firm conducts periodic ongoing supervision related to its investment advisory services. These efforts, which vary in frequency, include review based on a number of different factors, including but not limited to specific account activity and changes in a client's financial situation or investment objectives.

William Friess, Designated Supervisor, is responsible for supervising the investment advisory activities of Investment Advisor Representative, Randall Larson.
